

A change name and a frank statement why—

From October 1, 1919, Lung-Vita will be marketed under the trade name of L.V. This is a voluntary change on our part—but, read this opinion of the Bureau of Chemistry, U. S. Department of Agriculture:

"Names like 'heart remedy,' 'kidney pills,' 'blood purifier,' 'nerve tonic,' 'bone liniment,' 'lung balsam,' and other terms involving the names of parts of the human body are objectionable because of indefiniteness."

Frankly, we would rather not have changed the name of Lung-Vita—possibly we would never have had to—but we are law-abiding citizens, and the name of our product came under this ruling. And let us say here that when Lung-Vita was named the opinion quoted above had not been given.

There has been no change in the medicine itself—the change in name is the only change. Lung-Vita or L.V., it is the same old reliable medicine for stubborn coughs, colds, bronchial troubles, etc.

MINERS' DEMANDS GIVING ENGLAND ANOTHER PROBLEM

LONDON, Oct. 10.—From one labor difficulty the government passes to another. No sooner was the railwaymen's wage crisis surmounted or deferred than the miners' demand for the nationalization of mines confronts the cabinet.

Premier Lloyd George informed a deputation yesterday the government was unable to adopt the proposals made by the coal commission headed by Sir John Sankey, and the miners are greatly dissatisfied. Frank Rhodes, secretary of the miners' federation, said after the premier's statement at yesterday's conference that "the government's attitude had created a very grave situation" and the utterances of other labor men show they universally share this view.

A feature of the addresses made by members of the deputation to Lloyd George was, according to unofficial reports, a complete absence of bluster or violent language. Their statements were intended to show by reasonable arguments that nationalization of the mines was entirely in the interest of the community and also that the miners were supported in their demand by the whole body of trades unionists throughout the country. From quoted statements of prominent labor leaders, it is apparent they not only believe nationalization desirable, but are convinced there will be a constant unrest in the labor world until it is granted. It appears to be their impression that if extreme action is necessary to enforce the demand it will not only be the miners who will strike but trades unionists generally.

It is becoming increasingly evident that, apart from arguments claiming that nationalization would be a benefit to the community, there is a strong feeling among workers that the present system of private ownership carries with it in itself an injustice to the miners. This feeling clearly rankles in the minds of workers. It is not concealed, moreover, that the present agitation, if it secures its immediate aim, will not stop at mines.

"The nationalization of mines," says the Herald, labor organ, "is the question immediately at issue, but is, of course, a precursor to a complete policy of nationalization of industry. Here is the battle joined."

On neither side is there any doubt that the fight will be stern. The Herald, recognizing this, says: "The possessing class, the class which lives on labor of others, has everything at stake and will shrink from nothing in an attempt to frustrate the movement."

Representing the antinationalization view the Telegraph does not expect the miners to be converted from their present opinion, although it says there is some little hope in the appeal to other trades unionists. It adds: "The prospect is the reverse of attractive. It means renewed trouble, anxiety and unrest, and the nation can least afford it." It is understood the special trades union congress which will consider Premier Lloyd George's reply to the deputation yesterday will convene Oct. 22.

JAS. LEE, JR., DIES ILL SHORT TIME

After a brief illness James Lee, Jr., son of the late Capt. James Lee, member of the family prominent in social and business life of Memphis for many generations, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. S. S. Belvedere, boulevard, at midnight Thursday, from an attack of acute gastritis. He had been in the hospital for several weeks and only Thursday had been removed to the Lee home. His wife and daughter will arrive from the East Saturday morning when arrangements for the funeral will be made.

Mr. Lee was widely known in and around Memphis. For many years he was a magistrate in the Fifth civil district and recently was engaged in the automobile business. Besides the widow, who was Miss Bodine Warriner, he is survived by one daughter, Miss Sadie Lee, and three sons, Robert E. and Bayless Lee, brothers.

Children Will Be Happy In Taking Cheer To Orphans

The children of Grace Episcopal Sunday school will give their annual party for the benefit of the orphans of the Church home, 750 Jackson avenue, Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. On this occasion the Sunday school children will fill the pantry shelves of the orphanage with good things for the orphans' table for the coming winter, as it has been the custom of the Sunday school to do each year for the past 25 years. Many former members of the Sunday school who have now grown up and are older in years but still young at heart, continue to remember 'pound cake' and as they have prospered their pound becomes a bushel of potatoes, a sack of flour, or a barrel of apples. One of the pleasantest features of the day is the fun in Sunday school children and the orphans have with their frolics and games on the lawn of the home. It is indeed a happy day for the orphans to be able to entertain so many visitors of their own age. This year there are about 60 children at the orphanage, ranging in age from infancy to 14 years old. Grace Episcopal school extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the pound party.

No Wonder It's So Good
—Made from Coconuts and Milk

There's a very good reason for the famous quality of Troco—for its sweet delicate flavor and perfect texture. It is made from the dainty nut fat extracted from the white meat of coconuts and churned with pasteurized milk. It is appetizing, wholesome and nutritious—the scientific combination of the food standbys of the Tropics and Temperate Zones.

Such quality naturally makes Troco your ultimate choice, once you try it. You can pay more but you can't buy finer flavor, sweetness and delicateness, than you enjoy in Troco. Every pound will save you from 25 to 40 cents—the final argument for the adoption of Troco.

We churn Troco daily and ship daily, on ice. Dealers should order in small quantities and always keep Troco in their ice box to protect its sweetness and delicacy to the time of using.

If your grocer hasn't Troco in perfect condition send his name to the Troco Nut Butter Company, Chicago. There are many similar products, but only one Troco.
